Stewardship Reflections...

"Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God." — 1 John 4:15

How strong is your faith? When you have an opportunity to either defend or clarify a question about our Catholic faith, do you do it? Or, do you remain silent so that others don't think you are weird? Pray for the courage to be strong in all circumstances and to joyfully share your witness with others.

May the souls of all the faithful departed rest in peace.

5 TIPS FOR RAISING CATHOLIC KIDS

1. Accept your role as “primary catechist”

The Church says that as parents, we are our child’s “primary catechists,” which means that it is primarily up to us to teach them about the faith. This calling is both exciting and terrifying. I don’t have all the answers, not even close—and I have a Master’s degree in Theology! God knows that we all have limitations and shortcomings and baggage. He knows the wounds I have from my own parent’s divorce, my tendency to jealousy, and my need to tell someone when they’re wrong. And yet, God entrusted my children—HIS children—to me anyway.

2. Go to Mass as a family

One of the best opportunities I have for bringing my children to Jesus is through the Mass. How ironic that the very thing many Catholic parents struggle with the most is one of the most effective avenues for grace in the family. I can’t tell you how many conversations I’ve had with new parents asking me, “How do I get my kids to behave at Mass?” I wish I had a magic solution for behavior at Mass, but I don’t. What I do know, though, is that the Mass is still a place for you to belong, and it is still a place where your kids belong.

3. Help your kids participate at Mass

Rather than behavior modification (“sit still and be quiet”) my goal is to engage my kids at Mass in age-appropriate ways. This is a big mindset shift! It might mean accepting that your own experience at Mass will look different, but the reward in the long run is worth it. Do you have littles? Have them count the candles, or find Mary. Make a big deal during the transubstantiation and point out the bread becoming Jesus’ body. Do you have middles? Help them read along with the readings, follow the music notes in the missal with their finger, or draw a picture of something that stood out to them about the Gospel. Do you have teens? Find a way for them to serve at Mass, whether in the choir, or as an usher, or a greeter. If your kids can write, they can have an Every Sacred Sunday Mass journal of their own!

4. Discuss the Mass readings as a family

Discussing the readings as a family is another great way to help your kids engage with Mass! Start with just pre-reading the Gospels—either at dinner the night before Mass or even in the car on the way to Mass is the perfect way to start! By hearing the readings before Mass kids will have an easier time listening for the reading at Mass, and older children will benefit from hearing parents discuss the readings with each other. If you’re not sure where to start, Every Sacred Family: A 52 Week Catholic Mass Discussion Guide is a great resource!

5. Lead by example throughout the week

One of the greatest joys my children give me is the opportunity to share the love of Christ with them. I am their parent, and they trust me and my husband above all other people. Who else in my life will absorb my words and actions like they will? They copy both my bad habits and good. I see myself reflected in my 5 year old as I watch her strive for perfection or let fear get in the way. I also see how she prays a silent prayer every time she hears an ambulance, and how she gives her little sisters a night time blessing. These small actions that she sees me do are becoming a part of who she is. And with every prayer, she connects more deeply to Jesus. The thought that I am “cooperating” with God in bringing my children to heaven is an honor! That is why it is so important that my kids see me praying and preparing for Mass throughout the week. My own Mass journal is a mess of scribbles and crayon marks—which I remind myself is ok! I’m glad they want to be involved and they regularly see their parents setting aside time to pray.

MINISTRY Board

This Laudato Si' Week and Pentecost, let us contemplate and nurture seeds of hope for our "suffering planet" (LD 2). This year's theme is inspired by the symbol for Season of Creation 2024, "first fruits." Let us be seeds of hope in our lives and our world, rooted in faith and love.

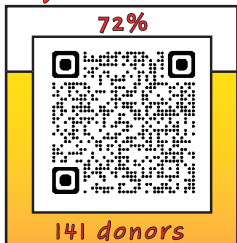

Laudate Deum is a reminder about the urgency of the Laudato Si' message and the need for both personal and cultural transformation amidst our ecological and climate crises.

Moving Outward

This Week's Readings at Mass

- ▶ Acts 1:1-11 - The Ascension of Jesus
- ▶ Ephesians 1:17-23 - A Spirit of wisdom
- ▶ Mark 16:15-20 - The Commissioning and Ascension

The author of the Gospel of Luke also wrote the Acts of the Apostles. In the first reading today, Luke tells the story of Jesus' Ascension into heaven in greater depth than in his Gospel. First, he recaps the 40 days Jesus spent with his followers after his resurrection. Next, Jesus repeats the promise that the disciples will receive power from the Holy Spirit—a foretelling of the Pentecost which we will celebrate in two weeks. Finally, Jesus commissions them to spread his message throughout the world, starting in Jerusalem, after they receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.

If we think of the Gospel of Luke and the Acts of the Apostles as a two-volume work (as Luke seems to have intended), then the Gospel moves toward Jerusalem at its climax where it ends after Jesus is raised from the dead. Then, the Acts of the Apostles begins in Jerusalem, but moves outward from there to “the ends of the earth”—at least the known ends of the earth in Jesus' time and place. The point is clear: Jesus' teachings aren't to be contained to one location or culture. He wants the Good News spread far and wide, and the disciples will discover that the Holy Spirit gives them what they need to do it.

We may wonder sometimes why Jesus had to “go away,” but perhaps it was only because he went away that the Holy Spirit was unleashed into the world. As the story in Acts of the Apostles unfolds, we learn how much the first apostles and their friends were able to do once they receive the outpouring of the Spirit.

© Jean Denton flock.pastoralcenter.com

“Grace was given to each of us according to the measure of Christ’s gift.”

Sheepish Question:
What am I doing with the gift of the Spirit?

Jesus may not have been physically present anymore, but his ongoing presence through that Holy Spirit allowed his followers to travel throughout the Mediterranean world and reach more people in their lifetime than he ever did. Because of their willingness to follow Jesus' instructions to witness to him throughout the world, there are now more than two billion Christians on earth.

Questions of the Week

- 1 Who do you know who has passed away yet whose spirit is still alive and making an impact on others?
- 2 Where or to whom might Jesus be inviting you to witness to him?
